Abstract

The OECD Pensions at a Glance Database has been developed in order to serve a growing need for pensions indicators. It includes reliable and internationally comparable statistics on public and mandatory and voluntary pensions. It covers OECD countries and aims to cover all G20 countries. Pensions at a Glance reviews and analyses the pension measures enacted or legislated in OECD countries for workers entering the labour market at age 22 in the specified year. It provides an in-depth review of the first layer of protection of the elderly, first-tier pensions across countries and provided a comprehensive selection of pension policy indicators for all OECD and G20 countries.
